

What does it really take to manage workforce lodging?

6 hours per trip

The average amount of time it takes for a travel manager to book and manage a trip at a small to mid-sized company.

What goes into that time?

Policy compliance

40% of U.S. business travelers admitted to booking outside their companies' travel policies.

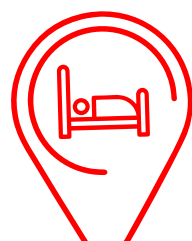

Traveler safety

68% of travel managers agree that in times of crisis, traditional corporate management tools aren't enough to locate travelers who booked directly with suppliers.

Reporting and reconciliation

86% of travel managers perform rate audits, but only 10% audit rates monthly or weekly.

Finding and negotiating the best rates

Small to mid-sized companies spend $33,000 on business travel each year. Hotel proximity to a work site is the #1 factor that drives up costs.

Changing reservations

Managing existing reservations takes time. 25% of reservations need to change at least once before or during a trip.

And the rest of the day?

The consequences of poor work-life balance

Travel managers must answer calls 24/7 from employees on the road at all hours of the day and night.

36% of Americans report poor productivity at work, and 41% report burnout or fatigue.

The U.S. ranked #30 out of 38 countries in a study on work-life balance, and another study found that 26% of work is done outside of normal working hours.

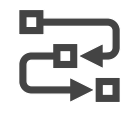

How can CLC help?

Full service lodging management: CLC's lodging experts can handle all aspects of your workforce travel, from reservations to providing centralized lodging reporting.

24/7/365 traveler support: Our US-based traveler support center is always available for reservation changes and traveler support. CLC members also gain access to reservation mapping to help locate travelers in case of emergency.

Hotel search and booking: Our members gain access to the nation's largest private membership network of pre-negotiated hotel discounts.

Travel policy compliance: CLC offers full compliance reporting and customized lodging directories to adhere to your company's exact travel policy.

Accurate, consolidated billing: CLC centralizes and audits every invoice to ensure there are no unauthorized charges or inaccurate rates.

“With CLC I spend 30 minutes to do what used to take me 10 hours.”

Deanna Irby, WS Construction

CLC LODGING

1.2 Million

Travelers Supported

$420 Million

Savings for Our Members Annually

17 Million

Annual Nights Booked

clclodging.com

Or call 1.866.369.4755